FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SUNDAY, April 1, 1866 usiness in Wall street during the past week was in-upted by the occurrence of Good Friday, which was greed as a holiday. The stock market opened dull, terrupted by the occurrence of Good Friday, which was observed as a holiday. The stock market opened dull, became feverish and closed heavy, under strong offerts to break down Erie with a view to depress the entire railway list. The price declined to 74 on Saturday, against $1½ on the 23d ult. Michigan Southern remained very firm throughout, salling as high as $4½; but the other speculative stocks sympathized slightly with Erie. Rock Inland, after rising to 115, fell back to 111 a ½ late on Thursday evening. On Saturday whe market lacked animation, and the bears hammered Erie in particular with considerable effect. The indications are, however, that, in view of the present condition of monotary affairs and the reasouring aspect of financial legislation in Congress, the upward movement has not yet culminated, but has merely been temporarily arrested by the stack on Erie by parties "short" of other stocks. The following quotations were current on the street at half past five on Saturday afternoon:—Michigan Southern $3½ a ½, Cleveland and Pittsburg 76½ a ½. Rock Island 110½, Erie 74, Fort Wayne 88 a ½, Northwestern 25½ a 26, preferred $5½ a ½. New York Central 20% a ½. Hudson River 107½ a ½, Reading 96½ a ½.

The gold market experienced further recovery from the depression of the previous work, and remained firm at the advance, the closing price being 127½. The extreme range of the price on each day of the week was as under:—

Coin for delivery was in great demand from the bears, owing to the large outstanding "short" interest, and toans were generally made at 3-33d a % per diem in favor of the lender. The export to Europe for the week was only $3,500. The demand for customs duties aggregated $2,432,595.

Foreign exchange was depressed by an abundant supply of bills and a limited demand. The market closed heavy, the following being the nominal quotations:—
Bankers bills on England, at sixty days, 106½; a 106½; three days, 107½; a 107½; commercial, 105½; a 106½; bills on Puris at long date, 5f. 38c.; a hort sight, 5f. 28c.; the state of on Hamburg, 35% a 35%; on Amsterdam, 40 a 40%; on Bremen, 77 a 77%; on Berlin, 70% a 70%; on Frank-

The in this city for the week ending on Friday ng are returned at 12,892 bales, and the exports the port for the week ending the 27th ult. at 16,000 bales. There is a firmer and more hopeful feeling fels in the dry goods trade, altke with the general merchandise markets, although no material recovery in prices has taken place. This is mainly attributable to

The money market has been extremely easy at five t, with exceptions at six, for call loans, and the cations favor prolonged case.

The recent numerous bank failures in the oil regions, resulting from the suspension of Culver, Penn & Co., in this city, serve to indicate the existence of a class of irresponsible banks throughout the country, suggestive of the "wild cat" establishments of former years, against which "Long John Wentworth" waged war so successfully in Illinois. It is not generally understood that the national currency set afforded peculiar facilities for the establishment of banks in different parts of the country in the interest of capitalists at this or some subordinary. in the interest of capitalists at this or some subordin nancial centre, and that the notes issued by obscure ountry banks are less likely to be returned to them for edemption than those of banks occupying central posi-Once put in circulation they are kept more hand to hand and State to State without i from hand to hand and State to State without finding a resting place, the bonds pledged as security for their redemption at Washington inspiring confidence enough in their value to keep them at par, without their actually being a legal tender unless in the payment of taxes to the government or in payment of debts due from one national bank to another. This gives such banks the full die of the currency to which they are entitled by law, the maximum of which is ninety per cent of the par value of the bonds deposited by them with the Pressury, while at the same time they draw interest upon the latter at the full rate of interest in coin paid to ordinary fund holders. As a mere speculation banking under such circumstances held out strong temp'stions to capital. But when we add to these facilities the prestige of nationality associated with these banks, and the confidence thereby inspired in the minds of dayositors, the inducements to establish national banks it will be seen were very strong. A popular idea has gone abroad that some how or other the blacklities of aestroad has some bow or other lar idea has gone abroad that some how or other be liabilities of national banks are guaranteed, whereas bonds deposited against it. The deposits of the banks in the petrol-um region that have just closed their doors are as entirely unscoured under the National Banking law as if they had been in the hands of private individuals, and hence the credit of a national bank, as much as that, and hence the dreut of a national coals, as much as that of a private firm, depends upon the character of its individual proprietors and managers.

In the case of one of the suspended banks—that of the Petroleum Bank of Titusville, Pa.—direct misrèpresontation appears to have been resorted to to convey the idea that it was a national bank, whereas it was not. The Herald of that town says that it had never obtained Idea that it was a national bank, whereas it was not. The Herald of that town says that it had never obtained a permit, notwithstanding the fact that the sign "Petroleum National Bank" was conspicuously posted upon one side of the building. That the solvency of some thirteen country banks should have been dependent upon that of a single private banking firm in New York argues a very unsound condition of the affairs of a considerable number of other local banks. If the business of these suspended institutions had been properly conducted, Culver, Fenn & Co.'s failure could hardly have seriously affected them; and the fact that it did so goes to show that they were more de-ply involved in the fortunes of that house than in justice to their depositors they should have been.

Great dissatisfaction prevails among the stockholders of national banks with the decision of the Supreme Court declaring the shares of such institutions liable to taxation under State authority, and various opinions are expressed as to the soundness of the opinion and the working of the law as thus interpreted. Section one of the act of June 30, 1964, mays:—"All bonds, Treasury notes and other obligations of the United States shall be exempt from taxation by or under State or municipal authority." So far as the direct taxation of government securities by the States is concerned the law is, therefore, clear. But that national bank stocks were not intended by Congress to be similarly exempted in evident from the following provision in the National Currency act:—

a tone of rebuke for their apparent anxiety to secure further advantages in the form of exemption from local taxes. Thus:—"The associations also possess all the powers necessary for carrying on the business of banking by discounting and negotiating promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other evidences of debt, and by receiving deposits, buying and selling exchange, and builton; by loaning money on personal se-creation by next requesting the race of interest on the bonds deposited by them against their circulation three per cent, preparatory to abolishing it entirely, they could still hear the blow and prosper. The old banks have been nearly all taxed out of oxistence for their benedit, and legislation has done all that it well could do on their behalf, and far more than any other government over did fer banking or any other similar institutions. Why, then, Oliver Twist-like, should they ask for more? Perhaps it is that their expectations are based upon the Scriptural proverb:—"To him that hath shall be given, and to him that hath not even that which he hath shall be taken away from him," Mr. Chase would if he had his own way give them all that they ask; for he read a minority report in favor of the exemption of the bank shares from local taxation, which reflected his own prejudices more than sound judgment, and therefore did him little credit. The value of the imports at Boston for the week ending March 31 was $1,600,000, and the duty upon them will probably be nearly $500,000.

The Third National Bank of Buffale has been designated as a government depository during the week just closed. The total number is now four hundred. The only national bank authorized during the week ending March 31, 1866, is the Miners' National Bank of Salt Lake, Great Salt Lake. Total number of national banks now in existence 1,644. Amount of national currency issued during week ending March 31, 1866, $1,430,800. Amount of national currency previously issued $262,516,370. Total to date $204,247,170. impenced.

Those who tell us the republican idea is a failure do not see the deep gulf between our broad theory and partial legislation; de not see that our government for the net contury has been but the repetition of the old experiments of class and casts. Hence the failure is not in the principle, but in the lack of virtue on our part to science, from the present spheavings of our political system. To reconstruct a government on the one enduring beas that has never yet been tried—equal rights to all.

From the proposed class legislation in Congress it is evident we have not yet learned windom from the experience of the past; for while our representatives at Washington are discussing the right of suffrage for the black man, as the only projection to life, liberty and happiness, they deny that "necessity of clittenship" to woman by proposing to introduce the word "male" into the federal constitution. In securing suffrage but to another shade of manhood, while we disfranchise afteen million taxpayers, we come not one line nearer the republican idea. Can a ballot in the hand of woman and dignity on her brow more unsex her than do a scepter and a crown? Shall an American Congrese my less honor to the daughter of a President than a British parliament to the daughter of a king? Should not our petitions command as respectful a hearing in a republican genate as a speech of Victoris in the House of Lords! Do we not claim that her, all men and women are nobles—all hoirs apparent to the throne? The fact that this backward legislation has roused so little thought or protest from the women of the country but proves what some of our ablest thinkers have already declared:—that the greatest barrier to a government of equality is found in the aristocracy of its women. For while woman holds an ideal position above man and the work of life, poorly imitating the pomp, heraldry and distinctions of an effect Europeam civilization, we as a nation can never realize the divine idea of equality is found in the aristocracy of life women for while our egotiam, selfabness, inxury and ease are baptized in the name of Him whose life was sacrifice—while at the family altar we are taught to worship wealth, power and position, rather than humanily, it is vain to talk of a republican government. are baptized in the name of sum whose life was—while at the family sliar we are taught to wealth, power and position, rather than y, it is vain to talk of a republican government. Fruits of liberty, equality and fraiernity must ted in the bud till cherished in the heart of woman.

At this hour the nation needs the highest thought and inspiration of a true womanhood infused into every vein and artery of its life; and woman needs a broader, deeper education, such as a pure religion and lofty patriotism alone can give. From the baptism of this second revolution should not woman come forth with new strength and dignity, clothed in all those "rights, privileges and immunities" that shall best enable ber to faild her highest duties to humanity, her country, her family and hemself?

Terrible Tornado in Indians.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

[From the Ladous (ind.) Herald, March 28.]

On Tuesday evening about seven and a half o'clock a terrible storm came up from the west, about two degrees south of west, touching the north edge of sown, unreofing bouses, barns, and tearing down all outsheldings, funcing and timber. We have heard from the tornado some three miles west and some two miles cost of town. The track of the storm was about one half mile wide, destroying almost everything.

Mr. Ratin Nahr's house, west of town—large framewas unroofed and partially torn down, his barn turcefed and below some some size, to the first nahr's house, west of town—large framewas unroofed and partially torn down, his barn turcefed and below some size (e.g., and his fige orchard was also

Mr. Frank Frank's stable was unroofed and all his timber destroyed.

Mr. William Frame's brick house was unroofed, his large barn blown to pleces and his orchard literally demolished. On large apple tree was torn off at the ground and thrown one hundred yards.

Mr. Joseo Burham's barn roof was blown partly off.

Mr. J. D. Schodeld's house was blown down over the heads of himself and family. Mr. S. had two of his children in his arms, protecting them from the falling logs. His wife, who had a child in her arms, was knocked down, but we learn received no injury. Everything they had, except a bureau, was destroyed.

Mr. Henry Johnson's stable and outhouses were all blown down.

Mr. Z. Polity's house was blown down.

Mr. Ticer's log house was blown down while the family was in bed, and fortunately none were hurt.

Since writing the above we learn that the house of Benjamin Walden, iwelve miles west, was unroofed and his farm damaged badly.

James B. Wilson's buildings and farm are damaged.

Nine miles west of here, Henry A. Foster's house and barn were blown down and santieved. His wife and two hildren were killed; one child only survived. Mr. F. himself at the time was out in the sugar comp. The unriving child was found in the west unhart.

Matthew F. James, north of Parkorsburg, and seven miles west of this place—house, burn and outhouses all blown down, himself onpoied, one child killed, fa isughter), and a hired man hedly crippled, who it is hought will die.

T. H. Messick's barn was unroofed and his farm injured.

Jouns Baker, five miles east, had the roof of his new frame house blown off.

As far as we could learn east and west for half a mile wide almost every useful tree was blown down or destroyed. The telegraph poles were all brotten off and blown across the thread of the storm.

This is but a hasty sketch of the damage done by this dreadful storm, all done in a few minutes. The cloud, as it went over, looked like a boiling cauldron of destruction, rearing like a thousand railroad ears running over bridges, and the clouds and lightning illting and wheeling in darkness above the horizon, terrible and sudden.

We have given all the news we could learn of the tornade up to the time of going to press. We have traced it as far east as Lebanon, and learn that it has swept everything in its way. Several lives were lost in the neighborhood of that place, and it was still raging at its highest pitch.
